

CALL FOR PAPERS for Special Issue

You are invited to submit a paper for possible inclusion in a special issue of the Health Sciences Investigations Journal on the

Theme UNIVERSAL HEALTH COVERAGE

Introduction

Universal Health Coverage (UHC) is essential to achieving health equity and ensuring that all people have access to quality health services without financial hardship. Despite progress toward Sustainable Development Goal 3.8, significant challenges remain in expanding access, improving service quality, and strengthening health systems, particularly for vulnerable populations. Continued research and innovation are needed to accelerate progress toward UHC and health for all.

Objective

This special edition aims to advance knowledge and dialogue on the opportunities, challenges, and innovations in achieving Universal Health Coverage. It seeks to showcase research, policy analyses, and implementation experiences that strengthen health systems, promote equitable access to quality healthcare, and support progress toward UHC.

Paper submission deadline: 31st November 2026

Timelines

We allow four months from the initial Call for Papers to the final submission deadline. After the deadline, the Special Issue will no longer accept new submissions.

Manuscript submission information

All manuscripts will be submitted via the Journal's online submission platform (www.hsijournal.ug.edu.gh). Please click "Submit Manuscript" and follow instructions given on the screen. Authors should indicate that the paper is submitted for consideration for publication in this special issue.

Authors should note that all papers will be subject to the HSI Journal's peer review process to ensure quality and relevance. For more information on our editorial policies, please see our guide for authors.

Contact Information

Please feel free to contact us hsijournal@ug.edu.gh if you need any further clarification

Your work and insight in this area would be very valuable for this special issue and we hope you would be willing to prepare an article to be included in the issue.

The Journal welcomes Articles, Case reports and Commentaries in line with the Journal's editorial policy set out.